

Jocelyn Tyson

First Place Winner: 2023 World Champion of Public Speaking

Dr. Jocelyn B. Tyson of Willingboro, New Jersey earned a doctorate degree in 2006 from the Ernest Mario School of Pharmacy at Rutgers University, New Brunswick. She is a pharmacist with over 16 years of interdisciplinary experience including retail, managed care, and compounding. Dr. Tyson holds the role of Vaccine Health and Science Specialist at Pfizer Pharmaceuticals, serving the Baltimore, Maryland area.

Jocelyn joined the Voorhees Toastmasters Club in 2021 and readily served in leadership roles including Club Secretary and Vice President Public Relations. In 2023, Jocelyn entered the club's International Speech contest and progressed through three rounds before winning at the District level. Jocelyn advanced to the regional finals and became one of 28 semi-finalists. On August 19, 2023, Dr. Tyson competed against seven others finalists on the world stage in the Bahamas and was awarded the coveted title of Toastmaster International World Champion 2023 of Public Speaking. The Toastmasters World Championship competition starts with approximately 30,000 contestants at the club level located in 148 countries around the world.

Jocelyn's communication skills led to the launch of her passion project, JTPA Consulting, LLC, which promotes health and wellness education to local urban communities. Through this project, Jocelyn enjoys teaching fitness and wellness classes and educating the public on medication and vaccine use.

She prides herself on inspiring others to push past the uncomfortable to face life's challenges head-on. She openly shares a motto she holds close, "With Christ by your side, anything is possible."
